Jill Korntved and Laura Peterson, both INTO San Diego, volunteered at Feeding San Diego, a local charity feeding families, homeless, and those in need where help is especially important during the holidays.

Jill and Laura were anticipated to bag 1,000 pounds of apples, but by the end of our 2 hour session they bagged over 5,749 pounds! Now, that is truly giving back to your community!

→ Student Internships

Thirty-six INTO students in the UK and US are now in the running to build their employability through the INTO Giving internship programme.

Three INTO student internships will be hosted by INTO Giving's partner Room to Read, with a fourth hosted by INTO Giving itself in Brighton.

With expenses paid opportunities available in Brighton, New York, London and San Francisco, this is a wonderful platform from which to build one's employability.

We look forward to reading them all, and to announcing the successful candidates in early 2022!

→ Giving Tuesday

30th November was Giving Tuesday, and collectively we raised $1,000 (£800 GBP) to help change children's lives.

Thank you to all of those who donated. Your generosity will make a difference to children's lives across the globe.

THE GIFT OF EDUCATION

INTO Giving grants £27,000/$36,000 to global projects

This November, INTO Giving donated £27,000/$36,000 to seven projects. All monies were raised by INTO employees, faculty, and friends, and will help give kids an education, keep them safe, and develop their communities.

We would like to thank you for your support in such tough times, that have impacted each of us globally.

The money will sponsor young women through secondary education, give refugee kids a safe passage to school, provide education during the pandemic, reduce conflict-related sexual violence and commercial sexual exploitation against children, and so much more.

As an organisation, we're incredibly grateful to have supporters who enable us to give financial support when and where it is needed most.
